From Dr. James W. Worth...

Traveling to Africa was a lifelong dream come true for me. The trip consisted of two separate and equally fascinating parts. The first part was hunting plains game with a guide Kerry knew well and thus could vouch for completely. Kerry got me from our plane out of Lynchburg to a remote ranch in Namibia where the hunting took place. He guided me along the way with consummate skill and good attention to my needs. The hunting was great, too.

When this part of the trip ended Kerry showed up in his intrepid Land Rover and we drove into the Kalahari Desert, where we met up with an adventure safari....It was an absorbing, fascinating adventure, replete with bushman people, elephant tracks, incredible desert scenery such as the magnificent baobab trees, delicious meals cooked over a campfire, and sleeping under the stars. I especially appreciated the Southern Cross, a constellation I had heard about but had never seen with my own eyes.

On the way back Kerry took me to Cape Town, a wonderfully cosmopolitan city. I only wish we could have stayed longer. Throughout the trip I felt very safe with Kerry and very grateful for his ability to navigate through airports, city streets, and isolated desert trails. He always listened to my concerns and took them seriously. I would highly recommend Narrow Gate Trekking to anyone with a spirit of adventure.

From Deidre (Washington State)...

It was a great trip! The highlights were Cape Town (did both the winery tour and Capelands tour), driving through a small portion of the restricted diamond area, walking the beach at Port Nollath, seeing the wild horses near Luderitz, hanging out at a Himba Village, and Etosha Park where we saw lots of zebras and an elephant.

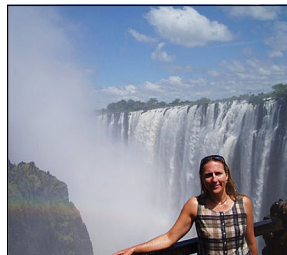

At Immenhof, Freddy and Ria treated me royally. They are wonderful people. I felt like a guest of the family, and their place is as nice as you said it would be. ...I especially enjoyed seeing the stars at night and the Southern Cross (no light pollution!). The place is also a bird watcher's paradise - an unexpected bonus because I've always been into birds.

We stayed at lots of different places over the course of our visit, but one that I really liked and recommend was the Etosha Lodge....Everything you shared about Namibia was right on and gave me the confidence to venture forth into an unknown land. Thanks again!

From Renee (Pennsylvania)...

Everything [was] exceptional - I honestly can't thank you or praise you enough for your thoroughness, attention to detail and over-the-top effort and friendly attention in planning this trip for us. You did an absolute splendid and outstanding job with taking care of every possible detail of our trip, and I couldn't be more impressed!...
